Assessment Website Needs Assessment

The Assessment Office is conducting a Needs Analysis.

The purpose of this survey is to collect data from Stephens stakeholders regarding the need for an online assessment resources website or Canvas course (i.e., a virtual assessment help resource). Your responses will help the Director of Assessment determine priorities for the development of instructional modules and materials for the Stephens community over the next several months.

Please be open and honest, your submissions are anonymous. Your participation is appreciated.

I am...

○ Faculty

○ Staff

○ Other

I consider myself level of assessment knowledge/skills to be...

(If you consider yourself to be "in between" two options, select the lower level)

○ Novice- I have never developed or conducted any kind of assessment plan; I am just starting out and need a large amount of assistance and/or access to resources

○ Intermediate- I have gone through a few assessment cycles and helped my program; I still feel like I have a lot to learn about assessment and would benefit from assistance and resources

○ Advanced- I have gone through several assessment cycles and have played a major role in my program's assessment planning an execution; I might benefit from assistance and resources but I already have a collection of helpful materials and I know where to go if I need more help

Please select your level of agreement with the following statements:

	Strongly disagree	Somewhat disagree	S
When I need assessment assistance, I am more likely to use an online resource than seek help from a colleague or the Director of Assessment	○	○
I would consult an online help resource to help me prepare for a meeting with the Director of Assessment	○	○
I find following an existing template or outline helps me stay organized when planning a project	○	○
I would participate in interactive online discussions about assessment with my colleagues if it a forum were made available to the Stephens community	○	○
I would read articles about assessment if they were provided to me	○	○
I would seek out assessment articles if journals, resources, databases were provided to me	○	○
I believe my colleagues/program would benefit from a virtual assessment help resource	○	○
I believe a virtual assessment help resource would increase assessment method sustainability at Stephens	○	○
I believe a virtual assessment help resource would foster a culture of assessment at Stephens	○	○
I want to know more about assessment methods in my field, but do not know where to find relevant information	○	○
I am not an "online" person, so I would not use a virtual help assessment resource if one were made available to me	○	○
I would utilize an assessment archive that contained several years worth of assessment reports from Stephens College programs	○	○
I feel like I should know more about assessment than I actually do	○	○
I am afraid to seek help with assessment because I feel like I ask irrelevant or "stupid" questions	○	○
I think a virtual assessment help resource would increase faculty/staff participation in assessment	○	○
I would be more likely to participate in assessment efforts if I could learn about the process on my own time	○	○
